POSITION OVERVIEW

The Senior Project Manager is responsible for leading complex, cross-departmental, public-private initiatives related to planning and development that support implementation of Boulder's vision for a city that is economically vital, environmentally sustainable and socially equitable. This is an opportunity for a talented professional who is a team player with a passion for public service to work at the cutting edge of policy in municipal government as well as on legacy projects within the City of Boulder. Projects include implementation of the adopted vision and master plan for Boulder's Civic Area, evaluating options and representing city interests in developments in the University Hill area and Downtown, and supporting evaluation of potential alternative sites and strategies to meet the city's long-term facility needs in the downtown campus area.

POSITION REQUIREMENTS

Master's degree or equivalent with emphasis in Urban Planning, Development Financing, Architecture, Civil Engineering, Business or Public Administration, or related field AND seven years of increasingly responsible related experience. Experience managing complex, multi-faceted and sometimes contentious planning projects in a high-pressure environment. An accomplishment record demonstrating clarity of vision, a commitment to community service, and political sensitivity. Experience and knowledge of both public and private processes for implementation of development projects and construction. Excellent written and verbal communication skills with the ability to effectively communicate with all levels of personnel within the city and the public.
