Chosen participants of the BFR Citizens' Academy are taught fire tactics and procedures and participate in simulated fire actions which give such citizen a unique opportunity to more fully appreciate fire work.

Now, therefore, in consideration of the benefits that I will receive from my decision to volunteer as a participant in the Boulder Fire-Rescue Citizens' Academy sponsored by the Boulder Fire Department, I _____ do hereby agree as follows:

Simulated fire actions involve use of a fire extinguisher to extinguish burning flammable liquid and wood props. I understand that participation also involves the risk of loss or damage to any personal property or belongings I have with me during such participation.

I understand that participation in these sessions poses additional inherent risks of serious physical injury, disability, disfigurement or death. Further, I recognize and acknowledge any instructional session is not intended to be nor should it be relied upon to be a substitute for any type of accredited, qualifying or certified class as it relates to such instruction. All instruction at the BFR Citizens' Academy is of a general nature, is informational only and is only intended to familiarize students with common fire and emergency medicine activity.
