Motus Theater Presents: “Do You Know Who I Am?”

An autobiographical performance on immigration.
Scripted by Kirsten Wilson of Motus Theater

Five brave undocumented immigrants in our community courageously come out of hiding to help us all understand the lives at stake in the immigration debate. Come hear Juan Juarez, Victor Galvan, Oscar Juarez, Ana Cristina Temu and Hugo Juarez perform their immigrant experiences during this one-hour play. Stay after the play for a talkback with the performers and the MLK Day MC.

Date: Monday, January 20th from 2:00 pm to 3:30 pm
at CU-Boulder University Memorial Center,
Glenn Miller Ballroom

InsideOut Photo Exhibit at the West Boulder Senior Center

In conjunction with the MLK activities, the West Boulder Senior Center at 909 Arapahoe will display black-and-white portraits from the Boulder Rebuilds Photo Project. In the fall of 2013, the City of Boulder and Intercambio invited Boulderites to participate in a nationwide photography initiative aimed at creating a portrait of America that includes immigrants and descendants of immigrants alike. Displayed at the Senior Center through 2014 is a selection of 24 portraits from the over 85 participants.
