Dear Medical Marijuana Business (MMB) or Recreational Marijuana Business (RMB) Licensee:

Important points regarding your enclosed annual city MMB or RMB license renewal application:

- Boulder MMB or RMB license renewal applications and explanatory cover letters are mailed to the business address of Boulder Businesses about 90 days ahead of license expiration dates.
- Boulder businesses must file their Boulder MMB or RMB license renewal not later than 45 days prior to their license expiration date in accordance with city ordinance. If you file your renewal late after the 45 day deadline, a $5,000 late filing fee will be added. If you attempt to file your renewal after your license expiration date, you will need to close your business and file a new application, with additional requisite fees, and must be approved for a new MMB city license before you may reopen.
- The City of Boulder will change your license expiration date to match that of the state MED once your state license is issued. This will result in a longer license term, but will also result in a pro-rated additional fee payable to the city for the longer license term. The city will inform you in the additional conditions section of the attached form letter if an additional pro-rated city renewal fee is due.
- The City of Boulder requires a renewal summary report for the last 12 months showing product purchases, product sales, number of patients/customers, and police calls summary per BRC local law.
- It is expected that Boulder MMB or RMB license renewal applicants will contact: 1) Boulder Fire, 2) Boulder Police, and 3) Planning and Development Services for annual inspections of their business premises in order to get those department's approval sign offs so that their renewal license will be issued by the city's Tax and License Division.
