

Canyon Gallery Info

The Canyon Gallery walls are equipped with a track hanging system.

Frames & Installation Hardware

2D artwork is expected to be ready to install on the walls. The library does not provide installation hardware (rings, screws, nails, wiring, etc.) to be mounted onto the artworks or loaned materials. Ideally, all artworks to be displayed will have a hook or hanging method built-into the frame/backboard.

For light pieces and foam boards, notched adhesive hang tabs are advised (available at McGuckins) or similar hooks. No duct tape, wires, strings or high hooks (visible when mounted).

For framed and heavier items with wired backs, library hanging system hooks should be located app. 1/3 of the way down the frame to keep it flush with the wall. Installations that require unusual set-ups, including hanging from the ceiling should be noted in the application.

Please see the map of the Canyon Gallery for dimensions of the space. The library has around 25 pedestals of varying sizes (some with bonnets to secure small/fragile work) and a large number of accessories including wooden easels, booster pedestals and acrylic stands, which can be used by applicants.

The two main 31-foot gallery walls, the eastern wall of the Canyon Ramp, and the wrapped column walls in the middle of the main gallery are reinforced with plywood behind the drywall for installing heavier objects. The remainder of the gallery walls are drywall only and should be used for hanging lighter artworks.
