

WHITE ROCKS

Revised 12/8/11

Rating:	easy-moderate
Distance:	1.25 miles
Surface:	crusher fines, road base, dirt, sand
Width:	Avg: 7' Min: 3'
Cross slope:	Avg: 0% Max: 5%
Grade:	Avg: 0% Max:
Picnic:	none
Other users:	bikes, horses (dogs not allowed)
Parking:	3 designated spots
Structures:	1 bridge, railroad tracks
Restrooms:	none
Shade:	some near ponds, plus a few cottonwood trees
Location:	The White Rocks Trailhead is located about 0.75 mile west of 95 th St. on the north side of Valmont Rd.

Description

Three accessible parking spots are located at the trailhead on the north side of Valmont Rd. All other parking is in the North Teller parking lot, less than 0.25 mile east on Valmont Rd. There is a small trail adjoining the two lots, but wheelchair users may have to use the road since this trail is uneven and steep in parts.

The White Rocks Trail winds through lush farmland and a riparian area. This makes it conducive to diverse wildlife and vegetation. Bald eagles, Great Blue Herons, Canada geese and many other birds can be seen in the area. Deer are also in abundance.

The trail starts off as crusher fines and maintains a width of about 5 feet. About 50 feet down the trail, an 11% slope for 20 feet occurs. This section often gets washed out, creating some tricky little gulleys. I have found that hugging the right side of the trail works better. After about 0.5 mile, it crosses over railroad tracks (negotiable with a wheelchair) and turns into road base dirt/gravel. Maintaining a width of about 10 feet, the trail runs along a fenced-off private lake and wetland area. After crossing the bridge at 0.9 mile, the trail begins to open up into prairie land. At this point the trail is on a slight uphill grade. After another 0.25 mile it reaches the base of a hill with two cottonwood trees that provide shade on hot days. This is about as far as most wheelchair users can go.

White Rocks

Map Legend

Accessible Trails Difficulty Rating

- Most Difficult
- Difficult
- Moderate
- Easy

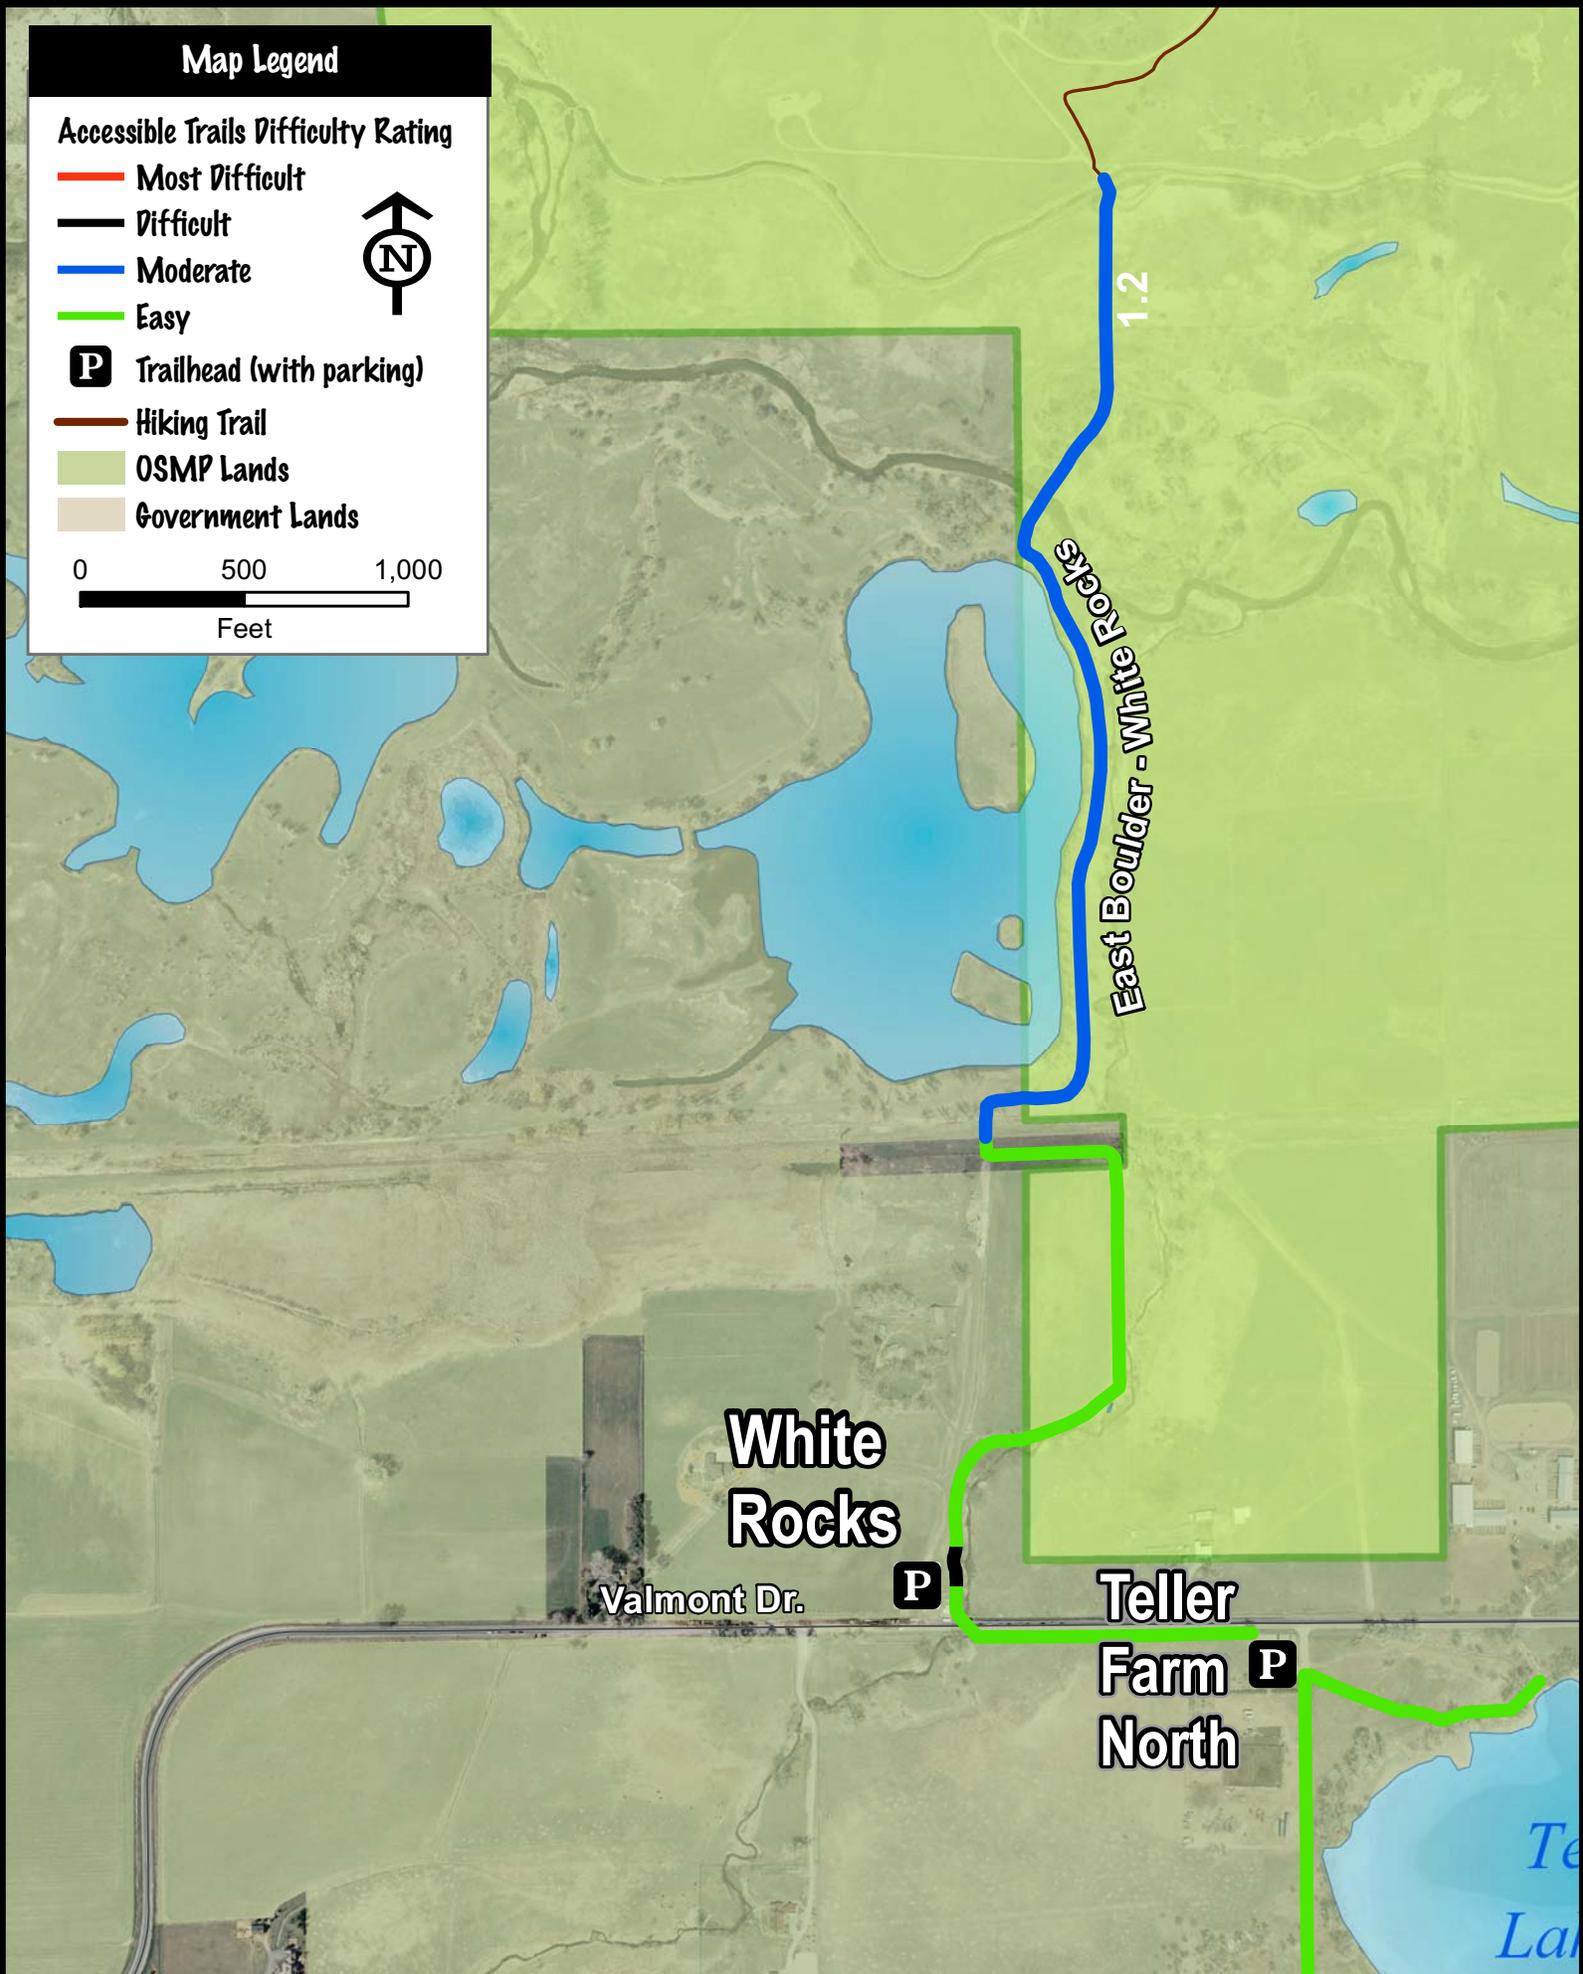

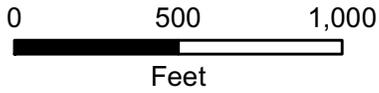

P Trailhead (with parking)

— Hiking Trail

 OSMP Lands

 Government Lands

White Rocks

Valmont Dr.

Teller

Farm

North

1.2

East Boulder - White Rocks

Te
La